

Bouquetin

Prerequisite

The children need technical riding skills on easy trails and must already have experience in overcoming obstacles.

Criteria

Children in the third level already have a very good command of their bike and are now building on their skills. They learn to master medium trails without problems, practice some jumps and drops, and learn challenging balance exercises. They master different obstacles in the course and know how to control their speed accordingly.